

Music Students Apply for $100 Scholarships

Music scholarship applications for the annual Torrance Area Youth Band competition in violin, voice, piano and wind instruments are now available, according to James Van Dyck, youth band director. Four one hundred dollar scholarships will be awarded by the Torrance Junior Women's Club to the winners. Contestants will be judged on the basis of performance of a solo selection performed before a panel of judges at El Camino College on April 11. Winners will perform for the Juniors at their last annual dinner meeting of the year and also appear as guest soloists with the Youth Band at their anniversary concert in May. Any music student of high school age in the Greater Torrance area is eligible to compete. Applications may be obtained by writing to the Torrance Area Youth Bands, Box 548, or by calling FA. 8-5273.

Finals Set in Script Contest

High school finalists in the "My True Security" competition sponsored by the Torrance Chamber of Commerce will present oral deliveries of their original scripts in the City Council chambers Monday, Feb. 12. A portable radio will be presented to the winner, with a trophy going to his school.

Winner of the local contest will compete in state finals. The state champion will receive an all-expense trip to Washington, D. C., in July to vie for a $1,000 scholarship and the national championship. Judging will be on the basis of script content, originality, and delivery.

Lutherans Set New Sanctuary Attracts Crowd

"Teenager, Christ Is for You!" will be the theme of Youth Loyalty Weekend to take place at the First Lutheran Church, located at the corner of Carson and Flower Sts., Feb. 6, 7, and 8.

Keynote speaker will be Carl Terzian, 23, who will address the young people Friday evening, Feb. 6. Mr. Terzian was sent last year by the United States government on a goodwill trip to Australia and Southeast Asia.

Miss Elsie Farris, Long Beach attorney, will address the group at a semi-formal banquet to take place Saturday evening, Feb. 7.

Climaxing the week end will be a sermon to be delivered at 10:45 a.m. worship Sunday, Feb. 8 by Rev. Nelson Trout, Negro pastor of Community Lutheran Church, Los Angeles, and a film "The Unfinished Talk" to be shown Sunday evening.

The building was constructed completely with volunteer labor under the direction of Gratz Lair, master carpenter, in only one year's time. It includes, besides the main sanctuary, eight classrooms, a baptistry, prayer room, and large foyer.

Enhancing the attractively decorated sanctuary are air conditioning, stained glass windows, and upholstered pews. A seating capacity of 400 enables the entire congregation to worship at the 11 a.m. service after having worshipped more than two years in two separate services.
